

Grounds of Discrimination

Discrimination is often linked to the compound in g effects of multiple combination of identities, people may be exposed to particular forms of significant personal pain and social harm that come from such acts of discrimination. For example, a Jewish lesbian with a child and same-sex spouse can be seen as a “mother of a child” or a “Jewish woman” and would be protected under the ground so marital status, family status, creed and sexual orientation.