

Module 7

Canadian Criminal Court System

Security guards may be required to prepare for legal proceedings, present evidence, prepare themselves and/or witnesses for testimony and follow up on the outcome of court proceedings. Security guards need a general understanding that all investigations should be concluded as if the case could potentially go to trial and therefore handle themselves accordingly to ensure that no procedural or administrative mistakes are made.