

Identification, symbols and the authority of licenses

- Every person who is acting as a security guard or holding himself or herself out as one shall wear a uniform that complies with the regulations. But this does not apply a person who is, acting as a bodyguard; or performing services to prevent the loss of property through theft or sabotage in an industrial, commercial, and residential or retail environment.

.