

Module 1

1.1 Different Jobs in the Security Industry

- 1.1.1 Private Investigators:

- A private investigator is a person who performs work, for remuneration, that consists primarily of conducting investigations in order to provide information such as; the character, actions, business or occupation of a person or business or the whereabouts of people or property for fees.

- 1.1.2 Loss Prevention Personnel:

- Loss Prevention Personnel also known as Retail security is known as a person who works in preventing thefts and frauds, making arrests and recovering stolen property for retailers. Guards are both uniformed and undercover in a variety of settings.