

Suspicious Packages

- Items that are routinely seen on-site but have been moved from their usual position. This includes displaced furniture or decorative items. This may indicate an object has been moved in order to conceal something behind it. This also includes items such as air duct covering grills or other fixtures that have been tampered
- Items that are routinely seen on site but are found in locations that are unusual, given the nature of the object. This may include things such as a backpack or briefcase placed behind a pillar.