

Section 6: Readiness for Emergency Response

Security guards are anticipated to respond effectively to emergencies and minimize their impact within a workplace setting. They might be called upon to perform various tasks during emergency procedures and should comprehend the importance of managing the scene appropriately. The trainer will delve into the potential roles that security guards might assume during emergency situations and how to carry out these tasks proficiently. This section encompasses four essential components: Emergency scenarios, Protocols for responding to emergencies, Possible functions of security guards in emergencies, and Fulfilling one's responsibilities.

