

What Is A Reasonable Search Incident To Arrest?

Pertinent Findings:

The removal of Chopera's wallet by security to determine his identity was determined to be a violation of his right to remain silent, as well as an illegal search. Police take photos and fingerprints of suspects under the Identification of Criminals Act. Security must seek the person in custody consent to take their photo and stop if that permission is retracted. Obligation to the Accused