

Additional Legislation

According to subsection 2(1) of the Act, a person may be found guilty of a trespass offence if:

- They enter a location where entry is prohibited
- They engage in an activity that is forbidden on the premises
- They refuse to leave when asked to do so by the occupier or an authorized person (e.g. a security guard).

If entry is prohibited or restricted, notice must be given to the individual, either verbally, in writing, or with the aid of signs or markings.
