

Module 7

Tort Law

Tort Law – “righting a wrong” : The criminal courts are designed to provide justice for society, not for individual. The sentences are not delivered based on what is a favorable outcome for the victim; they are based on what is best for society.

Therefore, the only remedy you have as a single member of society is to take the person to court for the harm they have caused you. You do this through a Tort Action.

