

Module 5

Introduction

The requirements of the Occupational Health and Safety Act and the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS) ensure the occupational safety of security guard and those with whom they interact.

Occupational health and safety act

The Occupational Health and Safety Act is Provincial Legislation designed to help keep workers safe while on the job. The Act outlines the specific duties of employers, supervisors and employees while at the workplace.

