

Module 6

As a security guard, you are not responsible for storing and looking after materials and equipment. However, you are responsible for reporting fire and safety hazards. It is very important for you to be aware of “hot spots” at your site and to use all of your senses to detect problems. A good time to look for these problems is when you are on patrol.

