

Module 9

Verbal Communication

When we interact with another person using words and tone to convey our message. The words we use are obviously important, but so is the tone in which we use those words. It's not just what we say, but how we say it that counts.

