

Additional Legislation

It is imperative that the Security Guard know at all times where their authority comes from. Depending on the situation, there may be a number of pieces of legislation the guard has to keep in mind.

The Security Guard receives a licence from the Province in which they reside. In the case of Ontario, the licence is issued through the Ministry of Community Safety and Correctional Services. The licence allows the Security Guard to operate as a Security Guard, it does not give the Guard ANY authority or power.