

Module 6

Bomb Emergencies

- Remain calm. The most important thing to remember in responding to a threat is to remain calm. The person receiving the threat should attempt to obtain as much information from the person making the threat as possible.
- Get a second person involved. It is always more desirable to have another person listen in on the call.
- Listen carefully. The person receiving the threatening phone call will likely be the only person to speak to the caller. Listen to the caller's words, but also to their tone of voice and background noise.
