

Avoid Hot Topics

Furthermore, the majority of people possess cameras, video recorders, smartphones, or other electronic devices capable of recording audio and video that can be used to document the behavior of anyone.

Some of these devices are contained within portable communication devices, toys, and other pieces of technology which are carried by many people all the time. It is likely that any kind of public display of inappropriate behavior could easily find its way to a media source, and can cause a great deal of bad publicity for the Guard, the Company, and their Clients.